PHOENIX, ARIZONA, TUESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 31, 1893.

NO. 220.

IT IS A WASTE OF MONEY

To pay high-prices for clothing at this season of the year, you are trailing in the rear of the procession of winter buyers now, and are simply buying what a multitude have purchased already. Its the unsold balance of stock remaining undisposed of after the grand rush of an opening season has subsided, that you must select from, not the first full assortment brought together to meet the grand avalanche of winter trade. Everything is cheap now, ice is cheap, so is our CLOTHING. Prices have suffered such a clip that little more than the first cost is left, and it will cost you a lost opportunity not to buy now. We are offering

Clothing, Boots, Shoes,
Hats and Furnishing Goods
At Greatly Reduced Prices,

to make room for our immense stock now being purchased by Mr. A. Goldberg in New York.

The Island at Present Under Strong Martial Rule.

A Division of Sentiment at Washington Regarding Annexation—British Movements.

HONOLULU, Jan. 18.—[Associated Press.]—A provisional government has placed J. H. Soper in command of all armed troops on the island. He has issued the following notice: "Under martial law, every person found upon the streets or in any public place between the hours of 9:30 p. m. and 5 a. m. will be liable to arrest unless provided with a pass from the commander-in-chief, J. H. Soper. The gathering of crowds is prohibited; anyone disturbing the peace or disobeying orders is liable to summary arrest without warrant. By order of the executive committee, signed J. H. Soper, commander-in-chief."

This proclamation is printed in the Hawaiian, English and Portuguese languages. Under the orders of the executive committee all saloons have been closed. Electric works which supply the city with light and the printing offices with power have been seized by an armed body of the provisional government.

Sentiment at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—[Secretary Foster today had a conference with President Harrison in regard to Hawaiian affairs. While of course no statement of the policy to be pursued by the United States in the matter will be made, at least until after the arrival of the commissioners from Hawaii, it is believed that the visit of the Hawaiians will hardly be successful if the purpose thereof has been correctly stated.

In executive session last Saturday the senate discussed the revolution. Generally speeches seemed to be for annexation or the establishment of a protectorate. In opposition to those views it was asserted that the debt of Hawaii amounted to more than $3,000,000 which was sufficient to cause this government to halt before assuming the loan. It was also stated by other senators that when we secured our coal station at Pearl river years ago there was an agreement under which England, Germany and the United States and other great powers agreed to keep hands off and permit Hawaii to run its own affairs. In converting this statement it was claimed that while there might have been a tacit understanding in that direction it was not such a contract between the parties as would preclude the United States in the event of a request from the government of Hawaii from exercising the power of annexation. In support of the presumption that there was no agreement it was shown that England had been, for a year or so, industriously making inroads in the islands and creating a feeling among people of that country which was harmful and extremely prejudicial to the interests of the United States and her citizens who had invested their money in enterprises that were developing the islands and increasing their trade and commerce.

In the house of representatives there was a strong feeling expressed by the leading Democrats against the annexation. At the same time it was an equally unanimous opinion no other nation should be permitted to step in and control the destinies of the island. It was said by several congressmen that the course Hawaii is adopting in seeking annexation is practically the same as that taken by Texas when it became a part of the United States. Naval officers are enthusiastic over the news from Hawaii. One said that if the United States possessed Hawaii we could make it the Gibraltar of the Pacific.

Movements of the British.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 30.—As far as known no orders have been received here relating to the movements of British warships, on account of today's news from Honolulu. Warships are on her way to England. The Melpomen and Daphne are at Panama. The Gracet is due from the south. The Nymph has gone to the China station. The Phoenix and Champion are in southern waters, and the Hyacinthe is at Esquimaux.

Board of Supervisors.

The board of Supervisors was in session yesterday. The report of the county treasurer was received concerning the interest paid by him to the territorial treasurer on the county's indebtedness refunded under the territorial funding act. The interest on M. & P. bonds refunded was $2,185.20.

Several official and contract bonds were approved and the board adjourned to meet next Monday.

He Will Remain.

Prof. Stool, mention of whose arrival recently in the city with Prof. Wolf was made in THE REPUBLICAN, has been persuaded to remain and take charge of a class in music. The recommendations the professor brings with him, as well as the demonstration he has given here, is an evidence of great capability and ought to insure him a liberal patronage.

BRIEF LITERARY NOTES

PAUL BOURGET, the distinguished literary rival of Dumas, was once a Parisian reporter.

LORD ALFRED TENNYSON is the eleven hundred and seventy-third person buried in Westminster abbey.

The longest word in the new Century dictionary is palato-pharyngo-laryngeal. The next longest is transubstantiation.

The manuscript of Edgar Allen Poe's "Tale of the Ragged Mountains" was sold in New York at auction recently for $205.

The number of pilgrims to the house at Ecclefechan, in which Carlyle was born, is yearly increasing. During the past three months three hundred names have, says the Glasgow Mail, been added to the visitor's book.

GEN. CASSIUS M. CLAY, the veteran diplomat, soldier and anti-slavery advocate of Kentucky, has presented his fine library and his statutory and paintings to the county in which he lives, for the nucleus of a public library. Gen. Clay is eighty years of age.

EVERY year a great many hero-worshipping pilgrims go to the house in which Carlyle was born and try on the sage's old hat, which is preserved as a relic of interest. Of the thousands of visitors during the last few years only thirty-four had heads large enough to fit the hat.

Hard Luck.

"What has happened to you? You look vexed."

"I should say so. This morning I was just going to be very angry about something when some one spoke to me, and I have been trying the whole day to think what I was going to be angry about, and I can't do it."—Texas Siftings.

Why He Came Early.

Mother (sitting down just as the train starts)—Oh, would you mind changing seats with me, sir? My baby wants to look out of the window.

Mr. Haven Hartford (with sarcastic politeness)—With pleasure, madam. I have been saving the seat for him for half an hour.—Life.

FROM YUMA.

Railroad Interest on the Colorado.

Committee Appointed to Act in Connection With the San Diego and Phoenix Committees.

YUMA, Ariz., Jan. 30.—[Special.]—Yuma county is forging ahead. The letting of the contract for building or constructing the South Gila canal, in this county, awakens a deep interest in irrigation enterprises. The fact that a canal seventy miles long and thirty feet wide, with six feet of water, with a storage reservoir seventeen miles long, eleven feet deep, covering 3,000 acres, and which will irrigate 160,000 acres of fine valley and mesa lands, and that will cost $2,000,000, and is now a sure thing, makes the doubters kick and gives great encouragement to those who have been working for the best interests of the town and county. Other enterprises are now getting started and under way; capitalists are getting interested and putting in their money, and today Yuma county bids fair to be one of the best agricultural and fruit growing sections of the coast.

An enthusiastic railroad meeting was held here last evening under the auspices of the Commercial club, H. W. Blaisdell, president of the club presiding. The meeting came about as the result of Chief Engineer Fox's stopping over here to consult with our people as to devising ways and means for the building of the San Diego, Yuma & Phoenix railroad. Messrs. Stough and Watts having been called immediately home on an urgent telegram.

Engineer Fox expressed himself as greatly astonished at the rapid strides that Yuma is making, the great improvements now under way, the grand irrigation projects now in hand and being carried on to completion, and some of which are already furnishing water for irrigation and others which shortly will be able to do so. He was also surprised to learn of the large amount of capital which has already been, and is now being invested in Yuma, and her surrounding country. Mr. Fox clearly explained the different surveys which have been made between San Diego, the summit of the great mountain range, and the great valley of the Colorado, the grades, lines or routes which they must follow, and the probable cost. His talk was listened to with great interest and enthusiasm. The following committee was appointed to consult with like committees from Phoenix and San Diego as to the best means of securing an early day for the construction of this important line of road: Judge J. L. Van Derwerker, L. A. Hicks, J. W. Dorrington, J. L. Carpenter, John Gandolfo, F. B. Wightman and C. R. Rockwood.

LAST OF EARTH.

The Great Statesman Laid to Rest.

Although the Funeral was Private.

Waves of Public Interest Swept Over the Barriers

And Made It One of the Most Impressive Incidents in American History.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—[Associated Press.]—Blaine could not have a private funeral, but surging waves of public interest swept over the barriers and made his public funeral one of the most impressive of public demonstrations. The most eminent men in national affairs stood around the bier. All business in the national capital was suspended during the services. The presence of the president, cabinet, supreme judges and high officials of congress and the diplomatic corps was not more significant than the homage of the waiting crowds who in respectful silence lined the streets through which the funeral cortege passed. After brief services in the Blaine mansion attended by members of the family, the president and government officials, diplomatic corps and friends, the procession wended its way to the church of the Covenant.

The funeral procession arrived at the church at noon and to an improvisation of the organ, made up of several themes of hymns which Blaine loved, the distinguished concourse moved slowly up the aisle. The body was deposited at the chancel rail. The services at the church were as simple as at the house, consisting of the services for the dead, selections from scriptures, and prayer. Then the funeral procession re-formed and the body was conveyed to Oak Hill cemetery and laid to rest.

AFTER CORBETT NOW.

The Champion's Old Enemy Out of Jail.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—[Associated Press.]—A dispatch from London says: Charlie Mitchell will be released from prison tomorrow morning at 6 o'clock, having served his sentence of two months, less good conduct reduction, for his murderous assault upon an unoffensive old man. His withdrawal of the appeal and voluntary surrender to serve out his sentence in order that he might be able to leave for the United States to make a match with Corbett, has sent his stock up among London sports and a large number of them will meet him at the prison gates and escort him to a hall in Hammersmith, where they will give him a breakfast. Mitchell will sail for the United States next week. His short confinement in prison, with plenty of enforced sleep and no chance to go on a spree, has done him a world of good and he looks in better condition than for many years.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

The arrivals yesterday morning were lighter than for the past two weeks.

Robert Hunter, treasurer of the Orange Belt Land and Irrigation company, yesterday bought three lots in Churchill addition near the corner of Arapahoe and Fillmore streets.

A warrant was sworn out by S. Watson, the contractor, for the arrest of R. H. Roberts, charging him with the theft of some tools from the complainant's camp, six miles east of the city. The stolen property was supposed to be in Roberts' tool chest, now at the office of Wells Fargo, in this city.

W. C. Aydelott died at the lodging house over McNamara's on Sunday morning. His body was embalmed by Randall & Davis and last night was taken to his home at Jonesburg, Mo., by his father W. T. Aydelott. The deceased came to Phoenix only two weeks ago in an advanced stage of consumption.

PERSONAL.

Col. W. M. Griffith of Dripping Springs and member of the National Republican committee is in the city.

J. L. Starr, an old friend of R. E. L. Robinson, arrived in the city last Sunday from Weatherford, Tex., on his way to San Francisco.

W. E. Guild, telegraph manager at Florence, and ex-Sheriff Truman of Pinal county, were among yesterday's visitors to the city.

P. C. Bicknell returned yesterday from a visit to the Relief mine with George Hamlin. Mr. Bicknell pronounces it a wonderful property.

Mrs. M. G. Moran, wife of M. G. Moran who came to Phoenix some weeks ago in search of health, arrived yesterday and with her husband will take up a permanent residence in the city.

There were registered at the Mills house M. M. McInerney, Yuma; C. K. McCoy, Kirksville, Mo.; Thomas M. Yerkes, Santa Ana, Mexico; J. L. Powell, Los Angeles; John Cay and wife.

Commercial hotel guests yesterday were B. A. Aldrich, Chicago; S. Tribolet, Tombstone; J. Van Pearson, St. Louis; A. D. Wilson, Denver; W. G. Baird and wife, San Francisco; Miss Schultz, Denver.

An Old Case Dismissed.

The various cases in district court which were begun a year ago against several precinct officers in the Phoenix and Tempe precincts charged with malfeasance in office were yesterday struck from the docket. The object of the original prosecution was to oust the officers rather than to inflict any statutory punishment upon them. The ousting has since been accomplished by former time, the official lives of the officers having come to an end by the expiration of their terms. The calendar was called and the docket set for the remainder of the time. Several cases were continued and many were dismissed.

Misdemeanors.

There was something in the air last Sunday calculated to excite combativeness. Amado Bernal, Juan Cuevas, Dolores Eredia and Pedro Ortega had engaged in a progressive four-hand scrap. They progressed as far as to the city jail. They were tried yesterday before Justice Kincaid, who assessed against them sums ranging from $5 up according to provocation in the cases.

Ramon Valencia found his way to the recorder's court for fighting. He was fined $5.

John Doe, a vagrant, in Justice Kincaid's court was given $5.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

The Paving Contract Finally Awarded.

The Merry-Go-Round Regulated in the Interest of the City Exchequer and the Sunday Schools.

The city council met last night in special session to finish awarding the contract to Peck Bros. for paving the sidewalk on the city hall plaza. The contract had undergone some changes in the wording and in specifying the amount of paving to be done. It was decided to also pave the approach to the city hall from the east side.

It was also agreed to tax the merry-go-round $1 a day and prohibit the running of it on Sunday. That innocent and musical means of recreation with its wooden horses for the delectation of the juvenile portion of the community had unfortunately attracted the attention of the city fathers by the patronage it is receiving and they determined that it was able to bear at least a small portion of municipal expenses.

There had also evidently been complaint of a falling off in Sunday school attendance.

A communication was received from the fire department asking for more hose and certain repairs on the engine and hose carts.

GOV. MURPHY

On Record as a Hawaiian Annexationist.

Speaking about the present Hawaiian troubles and the possibility of annexation a gentleman said yesterday that Gov. Murphy who is now in Washington is on record on that subject. Some years ago the governor resided at Honolulu and conducted a newspaper. He took a prominent part in one of the numerous insurrection attempts against King Kalakaua, with the object of bringing the island under the dominion of the United States. The insurrection never came to a head and Governor Murphy hurriedly returned to mainland without serving notice of his intention upon the king. The paper was never resumed under the old management.

Obituary.

Died on the evening of Sunday, January 29, Mrs. Ella Franklin, wife of Fleming Franklin. Mrs. Franklin was born in Illinois and came to the Salt River valley with her husband eleven years ago. She was one of the best known persons in Phoenix and her death creates sorrow in a large circle. She leaves behind a husband and an 8-year-old son. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon. The remains were interred in the Masonic cemetery,
